

Can I Tell You About
MY Journey

It is the most awesome experience
I have ever had.

But, it didn't start that way.

Throughout my life, I found myself deeply troubled by some of my feelings and actions. Although my world around me tried to make me feel that my lifestyle and actions were normal, there was something not right. You know that feeling?

I understood that if right and wrong just depended on how I felt – then there were no standards. I knew enough to know that was wrong. I knew there had to be standards that ruled society and me.

I discovered that there is a true standard in the book of Christianity called the Bible. There was indeed a standard for us all from a loving God. I had violated that standard. In fact that Book said that "all had sinned..." and "fallen short" of God's plan for our lives. That failure began with the wrong choice of the first man created, Adam, and has brought the certainty of death upon the human race. However a second man; God's Son, Jesus Christ, came into this world through a miraculous birth, lived without sin, and died for all of us who had failed.

He did not stay dead. He came back alive and His presence is still with us through His Spirit.

I discovered this truth, believed it and Jesus came to live in my life. He came to take over my life and give me a new start. He forgave all my bad stuff. All I had to do was ask Him and He came into my life. As a bonus, I get to live with Him in the eternal dimension called heaven when this life ends.

Do you know Him or are you still on the journey?
You can do what I did and ask Him into your life right now.

Can I help you pray? Here is our prayer:

Lord Jesus, I have messed up my life. Thank you for dying for my failures. I believe you are alive and hearing me now. Come into my life now and take over and save me in every way possible. In Jesus' name I ask and believe. Amen.

Now you have a part of His eternal family called the church.
You will find people there who will help you grow in your faith.
